

Edith Wharton comes to MetroStage

GLIMPSES of the MOON

September 8 – October 17

A Jazz Age Musical based on the novel by Edith Wharton
Books and Lyrics by Tajlei Levis

Music by John Mercurio

Directed and choreographed by David Marquez

“One of the best new musicals I’ve seen in ages...a well-crafted, witty musical comedy....a sparkling valentine to the Jazz Age” - BroadwayWorld.com

Pulitzer Prize winner, Edith Wharton is recognized as one of America’s greatest writers and a pioneer of women’s literature. MetroStage is proud to celebrate her legacy with the exciting new romantic musical, Glimpses of the Moon.

A sparkling romantic musical, Glimpses of the Moon follows the jazzy whirl of New York Society in 1922. Popular but penniless, Suzy and Nick devise the ultimate fundraising scheme—to marry and live off the wedding presents, while they continue to look for suitable millionaires. The plan works perfectly – until they fall in love.

For tickets, groups, and information call
(703) 548-9044 or metrostage.org.
Student tickets $25 (reg. $45-50)

1201 North Royal Street • Alexandria, Virginia 22314